PUZZLED POLICE FORCE.

Cartridge of Crude Manufacture, Evidently of Past Age, Unearthed. The finding of a bomb or cannon cartridge of crude manufacture excited much interest and created some excitement in the neighborhood of 12th and B streets northwest late yesterday afternoon. This morning the dangerous-looking piece of iron was turned over to the police of the first precinct and is now being guarded by Lieut. The cartridge found is about three inches in diameter, and is cylindrical in shape, except that one end is pointed like a bullet, and is very heavy. At one end there seems to have been an opening that the powder might be put in, but which was closed by a plug of iron soldered in place. Several acres of the agricultural rounds at the southwest corner of 12th and B streets northwest are being given and B streets northwest are being given up to gardens, and when John Oden was working on this plot yesterday afternoon he unearthed this cartridge. He carefully lifted it from its place and conveyed it to the foreman. It was hidden away for the night, but early this morning Policeman Cavanaugh of the first precinct was sent for and the missile turned over to him.

It is believed that the bomb came from the ground upon which the new Smithsonthe ground upon which the new Smithson-ian Institution building is being constructed. as much of the dirt excavated there was dumped where this bomb was found. But where it came from in the first place is

FOR LOCAL PLAYGROUNDS.

Mrs. Barney's Play and Other Fund-Raising Projects Considered. At a meeting of the Women's Clubs committee on playgrounds at the New Willard yesterday Mrs. Mussey presided. Dr. Curtis was asked to explain the present situation and needs of the playgrounds. He said that San Francisco seemed to have secured most of the money, and the playground appeals were not bringing many returns. It would be necessary to raise about $2,500, even if Congress granted the $15,000 asked for maintenance, as there was not enough for the school playgrounds. There were certain back bills that had not been paid. and it seemed necessary to continue the agitation for the extension of the system, fund that could be used in emergency without the delay incident to purchasing through the property clerk. Mrs. Mussey thought also that the government appropriation might not be available in time for the opening of the playgrounds.

Three projects were spoken of for raising money—Mrs. Barney's play at "The Oaks" on the 16th instant, a lawn fete at Senator Henderson's, 26th instant, and contribu-tions from the churches.

The fact that the pastoral play which created such interest at Friendship is to be repeated has produced very general satisfac

A rehearsal took place today at "The Oaks," the residence of Col. Henry F. Blount, 3101 R street northwest, at which Mrs. Albert Clifford Barney made some final arrangements in order that the change of setting from "Friendship" to "The Oaks" may not confuse the performers. Active among those who are promoting the repetition of the pastoral is Mrs. Senator Dubois, whose interest in educational problems, child labor and the juvenile courts is for the time being extended to the playground needs.

Welcome to Pastor. The members and friends of Marvin M.

E. Church South tendered a reception to the pastor, Rev. J. C. Hawk, and wife, Tuesday evening, May 8. Mr. Hawk is just entering upon his third year as pastor of Marvin Church and the warm welcome extended him showed how greatly he is esteemed by his people. The church was beautifully decorated under the direction of Mr. J. H. Windsor with flags and bunting, while the pulpit was banked with palms furnished by the American Rose Co. A program of entertainment was given by some of the best local talent obtainable, and a large and enthusiastic audience applauded the excellent music, recitations and speeches. A feature of the reception was the wel-come extended to Mr. Hawk by the various church organizations. Brief addresses were made by Mr. Thomas Jarvis and Mr. W. H. McCarty, representing the board of stewards, who assured Mr. Hawk of the great pleasure of the board at his return, and of their unanimous and hearty return, and of their unanimous and hearty co-operation. Similar sentiments were expressed by Mrs. W. F. Mattingly, representing the Ladles' Ald Society; Mr. N. Vansant, the sunday school; Mr. E. F. Brown, the Epworth League; and Miss Martha Cockrille, the Junior League.

Mr. Hawk expressed his deep appreciation of so hearty a welcome. The young ladles of his Sunday school class presented him with a handsome bouquet. Mrs. Hawks received flowers from the congregation. A musical and literary program was given as follows: Miss Rose Brett sang several solos, as did also Mrs. Kerr, Dr. Clifton P. Clark and Mr. Cathell. A quartet ton P. Clark and Mr. Cathell. A quartet composed of Mrs. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Brewer and Mr. Cathell gave selections, and Mr. Edward Fuel and Mr. Harry Hall performed on the plano.
